Lynda's Unwavering Commitment

Lynda's journey into wildlife protection began at a tender age. Growing up on a farm, she developed a deep affinity for animals, particularly birds. As the years went by, she witnessed firsthand the alarming decline in geese populations due to human encroachment and neglect. Determined to make a difference, Lynda embarked on a mission to create a sanctuary for these feathered beings.

In 2006, Lynda founded the non-profit organization Geese Peace Sanctuary, with the aim of providing a safe haven for geese and educating the public about their importance. Armed with a keen understanding of their behavior, Lynda meticulously designed a unique approach to wildlife management that emphasized non-lethal methods.

Partnership with Sparky

Lynda's unwavering dedication sparked the attention of Sparky, a loyal Border Collie who became her trusted companion and invaluable assistant. Together, they formed an unbreakable bond, patrolling parks and waterways on a daily basis. Sparky's exceptional herding abilities proved instrumental in deterring predators and ensuring the safety of the geese.

The Geese Police in Action

Donning her signature black and white uniform, Lynda's presence has become a reassuring sight for geese and visitors alike. She navigates the parks with unwavering resolve, her keen eye scanning for any signs of distress or harassment. With Sparky by her side, Lynda intervenes whenever necessary, using gentle but firm tactics to educate the public and protect the geese.

Lynda's reputation as the Geese Police extends far beyond the boundaries of Batavia, Illinois. She has been featured in numerous articles and television programs, raising awareness about the plight of geese and the importance of responsible wildlife management practices.

Beyond Wildlife Protection

Lynda's commitment to wildlife protection extends beyond geese. She has become a vocal advocate for all animals, tirelessly speaking out against cruelty, abuse, and neglect. Through her work with Geese Peace Sanctuary, Lynda has rescued countless dogs, cats, and other animals, providing them with medical care, rehabilitation, and loving homes.

Community Engagement

Lynda's efforts have had a profound impact on the community. She has organized educational programs in schools, libraries, and community centers, teaching children and adults about the importance of compassion towards wildlife. Her unwavering dedication has inspired countless others to embrace responsible pet ownership and become advocates for animal welfare.

International Recognition

Lynda's pioneering work has garnered international recognition. She has been invited to speak at conferences and workshops around the world, sharing her expertise and advocating for humane wildlife management practices. Her unwavering commitment has earned her numerous awards and accolades, including the prestigious "Hero for Animals" award from the Humane Society of the United States.

Lynda Bulla, the Geese Police, is an extraordinary individual who has dedicated her life to protecting the well-being of geese and all animals. Through her unwavering commitment, innovative approach, and tireless advocacy, Lynda has made a profound difference in the lives of countless creatures and has inspired others to embrace compassion and responsible pet ownership. Her legacy as a compassionate protector of wildlife will continue to resonate for generations to come.
