The Elixir of Love is a comic opera in two acts by Gaetano Donizetti. The libretto was written by Felice Romani, based on the French play Le Philtre by Eugène Scribe. The opera premiered in Milan in 1832 and has since become one of the most popular operas in the world.

The story of The Elixir of Love centers on Nemorino, a poor peasant who is in love with Adina, a wealthy landowner. Adina is not interested in Nemorino, however, and she rejects his advances. Nemorino is heartbroken, and he decides to take his own life. Before he can do so, he meets Dulcamara, a traveling salesman who is selling a magic elixir that he claims will make anyone irresistible to the opposite sex. Nemorino buys the elixir and drinks it, and he soon finds himself falling head over heels in love with Adina. Adina, however, is still not interested in Nemorino, and she continues to reject his advances. Nemorino is devastated, and he decides to give up on love. However, Dulcamara then reveals that the elixir was actually just a placebo, and that Nemorino's love for Adina was real all along. Adina, realizing that she has been wrong about Nemorino, finally agrees to marry him.

The Elixir of Love is a charming and delightful opera that is full of beautiful music and witty dialogue. The opera's overture is one of the most famous pieces of music in the world, and its arias are some of the most beloved in the opera repertoire.
